

Kai-lan Ladybug Kite Instructions

- 1 Cut the bottom off of the bag

- 2 Lay the bag flat. Draw a dot about one-third down the center of the bag. Mark an X through the dot. Cut along the X. You'll be left with two "wings." (Keep the discarded triangles for step #4.)

- 3 Turn the bag over. Fold the wings to the front, and out.

- 4 Use one of the discarded triangles from step #2, cut a large half circle for the ladybug head.

- 5 Time to paint! Draw large circles on the main part of the bag. Paint the area around them, and the wings, red. Paint the circles and the ladybug head from step #4 black. Let paint dry completely. Glue the head to the top of the bag.

6 Cut a two-foot piece of string for the tail and tie short ribbon pieces down the string.

7 Put a piece of tape at the corner of each wing to strengthen it, then punch a hole through each. Cut two one-foot pieces of string and attach to the punched holes. Cut a six to eight-foot piece of string and tie to the shorter strings, as shown. Knot the end of the long string to a stick or cardboard tube and wrap the string around it.

8 Cut a vent at the bottom of the kite (in the center) and attach the tail.

9 Tape the wings to the side of the bag at the bottom only.

Optional: Trim the top and bottom edges of the bag to be a more rounded shape...like a ladybug!
